Description

The Glamping Pods are located on the historic estate of Lisnabrague Lodge. The house itself dates back to 1700 and has been modernised by the family who currently live there. The camping pitches have recently been added to this beautiful countryside and are located on a working dairy farm.

They are situated on a hilltop overlooking Shark Lake or Acton Lake. This lake was created to feed the Newry Canal, which runs alongside it and takes you from Newry to Portadown. Sluice Keepers Cottage tells the story of the Newry Canal. The towpath is popular with walkers and cyclists.
