

Aldreigh lock, Grand Canal, Athy Waterways

Ireland

Attribution : (david.ward-perkins)

Useful information

Category : Information

Detail : Association

Description

Having grown from a 12th century Anglo-Norman settlement, the town of Athy now with a population of 10,000 approx., rests nestled between the main arteries of the M7 and M9 motorways. This ideal positioning, coupled with a frequent Bus & Rail services has assisted Athy in attracting many large scale events such as the National Ploughing Championships to the area on numerous occasions in recent times.

Geographical location

All useful information

Contact

Coneyburrow, Co. Kildare, Ireland

<https://www.athywaterways.com/>